

TORNADOES IN WEST CAUSE OF HEAVY LOSSES

St. Louis, July 7.—Four cars of Wabash passenger train No. 9, from St. Louis to Kansas City, were blown from the track by a tornado near Gilmore, Mo., this afternoon, but according to information received by General Manager Cotter, of the Wabash, no one was hurt badly enough to need medical attention.

A tornado struck St. Charles, Mo., twenty-five miles northwest of here at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon. It was reported that the storm razed a district eighteen blocks long and fourteen blocks wide, that two large churches were destroyed, and that the Wabash bridge across the Missouri river was damaged.

Reports that St. Peters, Mo., thirty miles north of here, was razed by a tornado today and that several score of persons were killed reached here tonight, but verification was impossible at 8 o'clock tonight as every telephone and telegraph wire into the town was down.

Two Killed in Indiana.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 7.—Lawrenceville, Ill., fifty miles south of Terre Haute, was visited by a terrific wind storm late today. Two persons are reported to have been killed and more than fifty houses were destroyed. It is estimated the damage will exceed half a million dollars.

39 TRUE BILL ARE RETURNED

Thirty-nine true bills, charging violations of the United States revenue laws, concerning the making of whiskey, were returned by the federal grand jury today about noon. Judge Clayton then instructed the grand jury that they could have a recess until Tuesday, when the inquirers will be in session again. Petit juries have been excused for this term.

Fleeing Man With Hat In His Hand Creates Mystery

Last night about 10 o'clock an unidentified man dashed up West Troy street, going towards the postoffice, and as spectators got a glimpse of the fleeing figure, they observed that he was holding his hat in his hand. Insofar as is known nobody was in pursuit.

Warden Grady Granger at the county jail, and Officer Hart saw the man as he crossed St. Andrews street, and they wondered too, what he was in such a hurry about.

Warden Granger and Police Officers Daughtery and Hart investigated the case, and endeavored to unravel the mystery, but all in vain.

Nobody knows why the man was running, nor why he did not stop.

Spectators do not know which way the man went after he reached Foster street, whether he kept due West or turned to South or North Foster.

But he was running, running some, and holding his hat in his hand, while his light clothing, if it had been on a very dark night, would have appeared rather ghost-like.

EVELYN THAW WILL BE FORCED TO TESTIFY AT HUSBAND'S TRIAL

New York, July 7.—Evelyn Thaw today was declared in contempt of court and will be brought back under arrest to testify for the state in Harry K. Thaw's sanity test, unless she crosses into Canada.

Justice Hendrick today declared Thaw's actress-wife in contempt, and said he would sign an attachment for her as soon as Deputy Attorney Frank K. Cook presented it to him. Cook said he would have the attachment ready early in the afternoon.

Mrs. Thaw, even without the attachment, is subject to arrest and a deputy sheriff will go at once to Malone, N. Y.

Mrs. Thaw can be arrested anywhere in the United States, but would be immune in Canada. However, those who know her best said she would return as she has thirty weeks of vaudeville booking in and around New York for next fall, and the attachment against her will run for five years.

JESS GRANGER DEAD.

Jess Granger, age 54, a painter and paper hanger by profession, died this morning at 5:30 o'clock at his home in Westover, the cause of his death being given as bronchial pneumonia. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock at Prospect Church, near Dothan. The deceased is survived by two brothers, John and Ed Granger, and two sisters, Miss Fannie Granger and Mrs. L. A. Oppert.

1 KILLED, 2 DYING RESULT ATTEMPTED ELOPEMENT

Waycross, Ga., July 7.—Charlie Inman is dead, Henry Inman is dying with one chance in a hundred to survive the night. Miss Addie Inman is seriously and probably fatally wounded. W. J. Griffin is in jail here suffering from two pistol wounds, and Jake McCormick is jailed also, the result of an alleged attempt on the part of Griffin to elope with Miss Inman, his wife's niece, today.

The trouble occurred at Griffin's farm, four miles north of Manor, west of Waycross.

For several years Griffin, who is 33 years old, is said to have paid attentions to Miss Inman. She is 19 and attractive. It was reported yesterday that plans had been made for an elopement and today Henry Inman, a brother of the girl, accompanied by Charlie Inman, his uncle, went to Griffin's farm to get the girl to leave Griffin's home and go to a brother's near Millwood.

Griffin said he would not let the girls go and the Inmans entered the house to get her. Pistols were drawn and a general fusillade followed.

Mrs. Griffin held her husband and tried to prevent him using the pistol, and the girl clung to her brother. It was while she sought to stop the trouble that she was shot, four bullets entering her, one in the head, one in the shoulder and two in an arm.

Charlie Inman, coming up behind Henry, was shot through the head and died instantly. Henry was struck near the heart and in another vital spot. Griffin had his left arm broken by one bullet and a finger nearly severed by another. He sought to escape, but Sheriff Pittman arrested him near the scene of the tragedy.

McCormick is Griffin's brother-in-law and became involved in trouble last night that nearly resulted in a shooting scrape.

All parties involved are well known throughout this section and are members of prominent families. Griffin is a son of W. W. Griffin of Wareboro. Miss Inman's parents have been dead several years and she has been making her home with an uncle J. L. Inman at Manor.

NEGRO CAUGHT AFTER FIERCE GUN FIGHT

McEachin's Blood Hound Trails Black to Cotton House After Race—Fight Occurs—Negro Wounded.

News of a desperate encounter between deputies and a negro near Campbellton in the early part of the week, after a blood hound had trailed the black to an old cotton house, where the fight took place, was brought to Dothan today by Superintendent McEachin of the county road working crew.

McEachin did not remember the names of the deputy nor the negro, but remembered the circumstances of the chase and its outcome.

The fracas started at Campbellton when the negro fired at a deputy, the shot going wild. The deputy returned the fire, but without effect. The negro made his escape through the woods.

Assistance was sought at the road crew's camp, near Campbellton, and Guard Newberry, with a blood hound, belonging to Superintendent McEachin, took up the chase, trailing the negro four or five miles. In the meantime rain had begun falling, and the chase had to be abandoned.

After the rain, the blood hound took up the trail again, but there was serious doubts in the minds of the posse as to the accuracy of the dog. Guard Newberry had implicit confidence in the hound, and went with him on the trail.

Finally, the negro was located by the dog, barricaded in an old cotton house, and there a dangerous gun fight occurred. The negro fired several volleys through the cracks of the house, and other openings, at the officers. Guard Newberry and others returning the fire. The negro received three or four wounds, but did not give up the fight until he was hit in the wrist by a bullet, which went up his arm. This was too much for the black, and he surrendered. He was taken to the Marianna jail for safe keeping.

The people around Campbellton offered McEachin $100 for his dog, but he refused the money.

ALLIES' SUBMARINES LAUNCH TORPEDOES WITHOUT WARNING

Berlin, July 8.—The German admiralty gave out an official statement today declaring that British submarines have torpedoed passenger ships and one hospital ship carrying 700 wounded in Turkish waters without any warning being given.

The statement points out that while England condemns Germany's submarine warfare within a specified zone, as a "cruel, barbarous and murderous practice," she is using the same methods in other parts of the world without specifying any particular area of operations.

12 PERSONS ARE KILLED IN TROLLEY CAR ACCIDENT

Toronto, Ont., July 7.—Twelve persons were killed and forty injured, some seriously, in the derailment of a trolley car near Queenstown, Ont., today, according to a message received here tonight.

The victims were members of a Toronto Sunday School who had gone on a picnic to Niagara Falls.

PACKS 1,100 MELONS IN A SINGLE CAR

Valdosta, Ga., July 7.—R. W. Lester has just shipped several cars of the largest watermelons ever known to have been shipped from this point. His method of packing enabled him to put more melons in the car than any other packer shipping out of this city. Mr. Lester believes that his methods will revolutionize the packing of watermelons. Eleven hundred melons averaging 37 pounds each were packed in one car shipped yesterday.

Watermelon and cantaloupe shipments from this point are about over with for this year. There has been a considerable increase in the number of cars handled from Valdosta this year over last season.

GENERAL HUERTA MAY BE SET FREE

Washington, July 7.—It was believed here tonight that the case against Gen. Huerta, charged with conspiracy to violate American neutrality by inciting a new Mexican revolution, might be abandoned.

Huerta is due to appear next week before a United States Commissioner for a hearing. Persistent reports are current that Huerta will agree to leave the Mexican border, take up his residence somewhere in the northern part of the United States and interfere no more in Mexican politics.

It was pointed out in official quarters that such a settlement would accomplish the chief end desired by the government—prevention of Huerta's return to Mexico, complicating the situation there.

Several messages were exchanged today between the Department of Justice and Federal Attorney Camp at El Paso. It is believed it was his suggestion that the case be disposed of without further legal proceedings.

AEROPLANES FOR USE OF MILITIA

New York, July 7.—The Aero Club of America, which has undertaken a campaign to obtain aeroplanes for the use of militia of all the states, announced today that Ferdinand Eggens of this city has proffered the use of his new military biplane to the National Guard of New York, New Jersey and Ohio to be used in turn during their maneuvers.

This is the eleventh aeroplane now available for the use of militia in various states.

HOLT IDENTIFIED AS ERICH MUESTER MURDERER OF WIFE

CARRANZA THINKS PRESIDENT WILSON A MEDDLER

Vera Cruz, Mex., July 7.—Gen. Venustiano Carranza, leader of the constitutionalists, "will not lift a finger" to unite the warring factions in Mexico, and furthermore he resents the attitude of the United States towards his government. He questions the right of President Wilson to "meddle in Mexican affairs."

These were the sentiments expressed by the "first chief" of the constitutionalists to John M. Silliman, the special representative of President Wilson at a recent conference held here. Mr. Silliman, the special representative, took the first step in a movement toward a settlement of Mexican differences.

The conference is said to have led to heated words during which Carranza showed the American envoy to the door with little ceremony.

Mr. Silliman's visit was made as the result of orders from the state department, and General Carranza was informed that as President Wilson looked to the constitutionalists as the superior power in Mexico, they will be expected to take the initiative in a peace movement.

BANK ROBBERS FIGHT 100 ARMED OFFICERS AND SAFELY ESCAPE

Little Rock, Ark., July 8.—Seven men early today battled with 100 armed citizens of England, Lonoke county, near here, and escaped after dynamiting the safe of the Bank of England and obtaining $200 in silver. Three charges of dynamite failed to dislodge the inner door of the bank's safe. During the revolver battle, N. W. Whitlock, town marshal of England, was seriously wounded.

The seven men first broke into a hardware store and obtained revolvers, ammunition and tools, which they used in preparing the bank safe for dynamiting. Three members of the gang entered the bank and set off three charges of the explosive unsuccessfully. Meantime the others of the robbers stood outside and by continually firing their revolvers kept the armed townspeople at a safe distance.

Leaving the bank the robbers drove the 100 armed citizens into the largest hotel in the town and drove away in an automobile.

OFF FISHING.

W. F. Newton, O. E. Williams, J. W. Batchelor, J. L. Crawford, and Clayton White left this morning for Ochlocknee lake in Florida for two or three days fishing.

(Holt Cove, N. Y., July 8.—Frank Holt, who attempted to take the life of J. P. Morgan, and who committed suicide last night in the Madison jail, today was identified as Erich Muester, the Harvard instructor who disappeared after being indicted as the murderer of his wife, Emma, in Cambridge, Mass., in 1906.

The identification was made by S. P. Smith, state detective of the district attorney's office of Middlesex county, Mass. Theodore Hillier, an automobile man, of Cambridge, and A. T. Brown, a Boston newspaper man.

The identification came after the three men, Smith, Hillier and Brown, had made a careful examination of the body. Smith said the gold bridge in Holt's upper right jaw was the same as that in the mouth of Muester. The Massachusetts detective declared he was positive of his identification.

Hillier, who lived with Muester and who drove him to the railroad station the night he disappeared, was equally positive, and so was Brown, who had known Muester personally.

Holt brought with him the Bertillon measurements of Muester, and they tallied with Holt's measurements.

District Attorney Lewis J. Smith of Nassau county announced he considered it definitely established that Muester and Holt were the same person.

William Huber, warden of the Nassau county jail, issued the following statement today:

"Holt met death by plunging from the bars of his cell. He fell 18 feet. His keeper, O'Ryan, was in charge of him, and I always believed O'Ryan was a trustworthy man. His clothes from us were to cover his eyes off the prisoner. He was told that if he wanted anything he should rap on the bars with a club and that his answers would be answered by another keeper.

"In running along the corridor to see what the disturbance was, O'Ryan disobeyed my positive orders. But I did not employ O'Ryan; he was employed by Sheriff Stephen T. Frost."

NBROO MURDERERS SENTENCED TO DEATH

Montgomery, Ala., July 7.—John Haller and Robert Williams, negroes, who confessed to the murder of a white woman, Mary Lanister, and the attempted murder of a policeman, Ed Hawn, were today sentenced to hang by Judge Cameron, chief judge of the circuit. The judge also sentenced to hang the plaintiff's house after murder. A company of militia was ordered out today, and the judge ordered the hanging of the two men. The judge also ordered the hanging of the two men. The judge also ordered the hanging of the two men.

Missing Their Opportunity.

Commercial Appeal.

They were seated on an East End car. One was a well-to-do business man of middle age. The other was evidently a man of the cloth. Both were discussing the Bachelor Babies' Hospital. He of the cloth was commending the worthy charity. His companion agreed that it was a most commendable work, and then he said in substance: "I regret that my business is so absorbing that I simply have not the time for philanthropic or charitable work. I would be glad to be of some use in the world, but I am too fagged out when the day's work is done to tackle anything outside."

Then he of the cloth replied, in a very gentle way: "I am well aware that you must find your business cares very pressing, but we are not put here simply to acquire money, are we? I cannot help feeling that you are missing some wonderful opportunities of service, and some day will surely regret your blindness."

It was not said in the spirit of reproof. It was grave advice gently given.

It is advice that will apply to many. How many of us are overlooking our opportunities to do good?

Here was an instance of a man whose business was greater than the promptings of his heart, and the greatest philosophers will agree that it is wisdom to follow such promptings. Have faith in your opportunities to do good in this world, even if your business must be for the moment set aside. It will wait. In the Koran we find this wise interpretation of charity: "Prayer carries us half way to God; fasting brings us to the door of His palace, and charity procures us admission."

Opportunities to do good in this world of ours should not be neglected, and the words of the man of the cloth will sink deeply into the heart of every man who thinks. Let us accept the advice not as a mild rebuke to the individual, but as a reproof to the many.

It is not only necessary to help a single charity, but help all—help those about us in need of help, if only a kindly word of encouragement is extended.

Public charity cannot always look after life's vicissitudes. We must co-operate with such benevolent institutions. We must find opportunities ourselves.

It would be well to also remember the dying declaration of that famous old physician who, in closing his eyes for the last time, remarked with a satisfied sign, "My poor are my best patients—God pays for them."

This is the essence of charity. True, simple, benevolent.

Ford manners in Moultrie are shockingly bad. It is almost impossible to hold a religious service without a Ford rolling up and breaking forth a sputter that resounds above all that is being done or said in the service. It is impossible to hold a band concert without more or less disturbance from the auto exhausts and auto horns, and the first of the operatic church services held Sunday afternoon suffered from the same indifference of the chronic noise-makers.—Moultrie Observer.

Don't blame the Fords. It's not their fault. Place responsibility where it belongs—on the ill-mannered driver who likes to hear the explosions of his motor, and seems to be especially happy when he knows that the racket it makes disturbs worshippers in a church or some other place of meeting, frightens a horse or disturbs a sick person. The Ford is a gentleman of refinement in comparison with some folks who drive Fords and a whole lot of other makes of automobiles.—Albany Herald.

Our Farmers Feeding

Europe.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

In the crop year which will end tomorrow, just short of 400,000,000 bushels of wheat will have been shipped from the United States. It is the banner record for our country. The sum which was received from foreign bread-eaters was half enough to pay off our national debt. Unless all forecasts go awry, the new crop year may equal that just closing. But the American farmer is not alone in his epoch-making glory. Our cotton manufacturers have reversed the order of international trade. Usually this country buys twice as much cotton fabrics from foreign lands as it sells to them, but this year the United States has sold an excess over purchases of about $25,000,000.

American ladies have been economizing very nobly in the matter of laces to the extent of more than $1,000,000 a month, compared with last fiscal year. Our textile mills have been supplying Europe with clothing. While the war continues the European market will be the best on earth, and it will offer a more profitable field for the American producer than South America. Our billion dollar trade balance has set a mark high above that ever established by any competitor and one which cannot be eclipsed by anyone but ourselves for long years to come.

ADVERTISE IN THE EAGLE AND GET RESULTS

They Tell us it was Hot Yesterday

In fact we heard numerous persons dilating on the extreme warmth when they entered the sanatorium. We are willing to believe that it was hot, but we know one thing—it was not hot here. We think that a meat shop should be kept cool in the summer and we put our thoughts into action, as those big fans will testify. Our meat stays in the refrigerator and while you are in the shop you stay in the midst of the coolest and most refreshing breezes. Yes, we like to eat our own meat, but you see it isn't all hot air.

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Miss Amelia Wilson, R. F. D. No. 4, Alma, Ark., says: "I think Cardui is the greatest medicine on earth, for women. Before I began to take Cardui, I was so weak and nervous, and had such awful dizzy spells and a poor appetite. Now I feel as well and as strong as I ever did, and can eat most anything. Begin taking Cardui today. Sold by all dealers."

MRS. MATHIS CALLS ATTENTION TO WASTE IN COMMON CATTLE

The State President of the Diversified Farming Association, Mrs. G. H. Mathis, has written the following letter to the editor of this paper and we commend the very practical conclusion reached by this great woman farmer.

The Letter.

Editor of The Eagle.
My dear Sir:

I beg to call the attention of your readers to the very great importance of breeding up their native cattle with pure breeds in order that they may realize more money from them when placed on the market and more service from their domestic animals.

In my conference with farmers throughout the state I find that there is a general interest in the live stock industry as a result of the campaign for diversified farming. A number of farmers have turned their old time cotton fields into pastures and have planted them in grain and forage crops with the intention of developing a live stock industry in connection with their agricultural business. In a recent talk with an experienced stock man he made a statement that a 12 months old short horn yearling had sold in Alabama during the past year for beef purposes for as high as $117.00 and that many of them had brought $52.00 per head. The same thing may be said of Hereford and other beef types.

In talking with the farmers recently at a meeting in Calhoun county, I asked what their 12 months old yearlings had brought them, and they said not exceeding $6.00. It costs no more to feed the stunted, tick infested native cattle than it does the pure breed and milk type, and yet the selling value is many times greater for the latter.

One acre will carry a yearling by planting one-half in pasture and one half in grain, forage and food stuffs. If the figures given above are correct the pure bred makes out of that land from $50 to $100 per acre as against from $6.00 to $8.00 per acre for common stock.

The thorough-bred pays better per acre than cotton or any other crop that can be grown on the land. The labor cost is less and the days of work are fewer. Cattle raising settles the renter and labor problem, and eliminates much of the cost of feeding and providing for large numbers of people as one man can do the work of ten.

The tenant must realize that a changed condition is forced on us by the boll weevil and he must adjust himself to the new order of things. He must realize that he must work 12 months in the year instead of five or six months, and he must go into some form of agriculture that will keep him busy the whole year. He must realize that the landlord can sow his land in grain, or let it lie idle; that he can build large pastures and put live stock in them. He can grow alfalfa, soy beans and velvet beans and keep his stock at very low cost, but the renter is handicapped by frequent moves.

The renter must be willing and anxious to work for the interest of the land owner as well as himself. He must be willing to care for live stock in order that he may share in the profits.

The time has come when the renter must see that he must think ahead for himself and do more than he has been doing in order that he may not be run over in this boll weevil fight. The boll weevil is the destructive insect that is overturning all our former methods and all must work together to save ourselves.

Very respectfully,

Mrs. G. H. Mathis,
President, Diversified Farming Association of Central Alabama.

TRUE ENJOYMENT OF LIFE

Certain Periods of Outdoor Recreation a Necessity for Healthful Existence.

An inquirer, referring to an article in the Bankers' Magazine relative to the health of bankers, is thus answered by Doctor Evans, the scientific hygienist:

"A bank man should have an examination once a year to determine the condition of the kidneys, arteries, heart and nerves. He should arrange so as to have a daily period for exercise in the open air. He cannot keep fit except by following a plan of maintaining fitness, since bank life is one to which the human animal does not automatically adjust itself."

We are all interested in the bankers—that they keep in good health, for the general aspect of business takes its flavor from their physical health. But the remark applies quite as well to all our big business men whose work is entirely indoors in comfortable chairs, where the sedentary and unhealthy life is most attractive. The human animal cannot live its best sort of life over holes and inspecting ledgers. It needs outdoors among the trees and on the banks of streams where the finny tribe dwells. Get out where the smiles of the blue skies awaken the kidneys and the nerves to action.—Columbus Journal.

PROOF

"Your friend, the actor, is a wonder."

"What makes you think so?"

"He admits that he isn't."

SLIPPER "CAME BACK."

Here is a curious little war story that was related to me by its "hero." He is a British officer who is home from the fighting front on a short leave, having injured one foot rather severely. Meanwhile he is going about in "muffs" and is wearing a carpet slipper on his injured foot.

The other day while he was traveling down from Hampstead to Wimpole street in a London motor bus to see his surgeon, a woman opposite him in the vehicle leaned over and inquired how long he had been back from France. Considerably surprised, and wondering if he was confronted by a seeress or a feminine Sherlock Holmes, he explained, and then asked how she knew that he was a soldier and had been in France.

"It is quite simple, really," smiled the fair one. "You see, I made that slipper that you are wearing and sent it to the front!"

AN APPROPRIATE NAME.

In a school in a Jewish district of the city they were discussing a change of name for the school, and the tendency of the board of education to use names of illustrious men as an inspiration had been commented on.

A bright little fellow in the front row raised his hand for recognition. "I think, Mr. C.," he said, "that we ought to call this the Lincoln school. There are so many Abrahams in it."

PLAYING SAFE.

He—I swear my love for you shall never grow less.
She—Would you — er — mind swearing like that before a notary public?

SOON ENDED.

"We never have prolonged arguments at our house."
"Lucky man! I presume your wife does not argue."
"Oh, yes; but she's so darned clever at it!"
